STATUS

External

A focused cockpit for the wheel.

Built for self-directed retail options traders, Level 2–3, running cash-secured puts on tickers they want to own and covered calls on the resulting shares. The product does three things well.

01

Screens

Ranks high-yield, near-the-money cash-secured-put candidates by annualized return across the option chain.

02

Tracks

Open positions with IV-rank trends, earnings dates, near-expiry alerts, and a roll-suggestion engine that proposes the next leg.

03

Journals

Every closed trade, with realized yield, win rate, and per-ticker performance over time.

Self-directed options traders, already at a broker.

Mostly US-based, Level 2–3, comfortable with a Robinhood-style preview-then-confirm ticket. Two segments matter for partners.

SEGMENT 01

Income-focused wheelers

5–25 concurrent positions on liquid large caps and ETFs. Want steady yield and a clean view of every open leg.

SEGMENT 02

Active rollers

One-screen visibility into roll opportunities before expiration Friday. Lives in the chain on Thursdays and Fridays.

They already hold a brokerage account (or will open one if the integration is good). They want a better cockpit on top of the broker they trust — not a new primary broker.

Year-one planning numbers.

Planning estimates, not commitments. We'd rather under-promise than oversell.

METRIC	CONSERVATIVE	TARGET
Total registered users (EOY 1)	5,000	15,000
Monthly active users	1,500	5,000
Users who connect a brokerage account	600	2,500
Net new accounts opened because of the dashboard	150	750
Avg options contracts / month per active connected user		20–40

Funnel assumption: ~40% of MAU connect a brokerage; of those, ~25% open a fresh account with the partner broker rather than link an existing one.

SaaS subscription, paid by the user.

No order-flow, no spreads, no float. Incentives stay aligned with the user and the regulatory footprint stays small.

Future

Small advisor and coaching groups. Not in year-one scope.

We do not monetize order flow, spreads, or float — and we have no plans to.

The right cohort, the right shape.

- | | | |
|----|-------------------------------------|--|
| 01 | Right-shaped users | Options-literate, account-funded, multi-trade-per-month — the cohort partners actually want, not signal-chasers who open and abandon accounts. |
| 02 | We bring UX, you bring rails | We have no interest in becoming a broker. We want to be the best cockpit on top of your brokerage, with co-brandable account-linking. |
| 03 | Net account openings | A meaningful share of our growth is users who don't yet have an account at the partner broker and will open one to use live features. |
| 04 | Engineering quality | Typed APIs, automated tests around the positions and roll endpoints, structured logs, sandbox-first integration plan. We will not be a support burden. |
| 05 | Single launch partner | One integration, not three half-built ones — so what we ship will be exercised by every paying user. |

Three concrete asks, in priority order.

01

Sandbox + production OAuth path

Confirmation we can build against your sandbox immediately, plus a clear, time-boxed checklist for production OAuth review.

02

Partner pricing, if any exists

Whatever ISV, referral, or SaaS-discount program you have for products in our shape — even an informal one. We'll share funnel data to qualify.

03

Intro to the right humans

A named partner-engineering or solutions contact, plus a compliance and legal contact for agreement review. One of each is enough.

A 30-minute follow-up after this is plenty — we'll come with the specific technical and commercial questions documented in our internal evaluation.

Let's build the cockpit on top of your rails.

Happy to send the one-page brief ahead of the call, or jump straight into sandbox onboarding when you're ready.
